Welcome to today’s ACM SIGSOFT Webinar

- The presentation starts at the top of the hour and lasts 60 minutes. Slides will advance automatically throughout the event. You can resize the slide area as well as other windows by dragging the bottom right corner of the slide window, as well as move them around the screen.
- If you are experiencing any problems/issues, refresh your console by pressing the F5 key on your keyboard in Windows, Command + R if on a Mac, or refresh your browser if you’re on a mobile device; or close and re-launch the presentation. You can also view the Webcast Help Guide, by clicking on the “Help” widget in the bottom dock.
- To control volume, adjust the master volume on your computer. If the volume is still too low, use headphones.
- If you think of a question during the presentation, please type it into the Q&A box and click on the submit button. You do not need to wait until the end of the presentation to begin submitting questions.
- You can download a copy of these slides by clicking on the Resources widget in the bottom dock.
- This session is being recorded and will be archived for on-demand viewing in the next 1-2 days. You will receive an automatic email notification when it is available,
- For future and past webinars check out

SIGSOFT Member Benefits:

• Subscription to the bi-monthly newsletter, Software Engineering Notes in electronic format. Additional print subscription for print members.
• Web access to the SIGSOFT portion of the ACM Digital Library, including articles from all SIGSOFT sponsored and co-sponsored conferences (e.g., ICSE, EESC/FSE, PASTE, and ISSTA)
• Discounted registration at conferences and workshops that are sponsored, co-sponsored or in cooperation with SIGSOFT
• Notification of relevant information through the SIGSOFT email list
• The SIGSOFT Web site, www.sigsoft.org
• The SEWORLD Mailing List, www.sigsoft.org/seworld/
• The SEN Web site, www.sigsoft.org/SEN/, which includes additional SEN content such as books available for review as well as links to references in the Risks to the Public and Surfing the Web columns
• SIGSOFT presence on social networking sites, including a LinkedIn group (ACM SIGSOFT), a Facebook community page (ACM SIGSOFT), and a Twitter feed (sigsoft)
The ACM Special Interest Group on Software Engineering provides a forum for computing professionals from industry, government and academia to examine principles, practices, and new research results in software engineering.

Mission Statement

The ACM Special Interest Group on Software Engineering seeks to improve our ability to engineer software by stimulating interaction among practitioners, researchers, and educators; by fostering the professional development of software engineers; and by representing software engineers to professional, legal, and political entities.

SIGSOFT Events

SIGSOFT sponsors some very popular events in the area of Software Engineering. An up to date list of those events can be found here. Consult the ACM Calendar of Events for more information about dates and deadlines. More information for event organizers that are interested in cooperating with SIGSOFT can be found here.

Upcoming FSE, ESEC and ICSE Conferences

Plan to participate in these conferences. FSE is SIGSOFT’s Symposium on the Foundations of Software Engineering; ESEC is the European Software Engineering Conference, and ICSE is the International Conference on Software Engineering.

ESEC / FSE 2015

ESEC/FSE 2015 will be held August 31 - September 4, 2015 in Bergamo, Italy.

ICSE 2016

ICSE 2016 will be held May 14 through 22, 2016 in Austin, Texas.

FSE 2016

FSE 2016 will be held November 10 through 22, 2016 in Seattle, Washington.

ICSE 2017

ICSE 2017 will be held in Buenos Aires, Argentina, dates TBD.

Webinars

Please join us for the upcoming SIGSOFT and ACM webinars. They include agile and evolutionary development, SIGSOFT Town Hall, end-user software engineering, and tool tech transfer.

Call for Nominations: JACM Editor-in-Chief

ACM is accepting nominations for the position of Editor-In-Chief of the Journal of the ACM. Please see the Call for Nominations.

Call for Papers: ACM TCPS

ACM is announcing a new journal and call for papers, for ACM Transactions on Cyber-Physical Systems. Please refer to the announcement and call.

SIGSOFT Awards

Congratulations to these recipients of the SIGSOFT 2015 awards:

- Bashar Nuseibeh: Distinguished Service
- Carlos Ghezzi: Outstanding Research
- Barbara Ryder: Influential Educator
- James A. Jones, Mary Jean Harrold, John Stasko: Impact Paper

Software Engineering Notes (SENotes) is edited, but not refereed, and has no impact factor. SENotes is for informal writings and reports about software engineering and may not be suitable for academic writing. SENotes contributions are archived in the ACM Digital Library and are published through many search engines and scientific indices.

There is a moratorium on research paper submissions until further notice. Please do not submit research papers at this time.

What's New

Books Available For Review

If you're a member of SIGSOFT and would like to see your name in print, check out the list of available books. Have the editor send you a book, read it, write up your review and send it in.

Papers, Reviews and Columns In the March Issue

This issue of SENotes includes reports and papers on:

- ACM SIGSOFT FSE 2014 Conference Summary, by Shing-Chi Cheung, Alessandro Orso and Margaret-Anne Storey
- Technical Debt Beyond Definition: Understanding Repetition on the Sixth International Workshop on Managing Technical Debt, by Caroline Beaman, Robert L. Nord, Philippe Kruchten and Ipek Ozkaya
- Impact of Size and Productivity on Testing and Refactoring Efforts for Web Based Development Projects, by Minand Bhandari and Prof. Ch. Ayala Rana
- Comparative Analysis of Traditional and Object-Oriented Software Engineering: A Study, by Priyanka Dutta and Joy Chaudhuri
- A Systematic Literature Review on Global Software Development Life Cycle, by Nithya Jairam and Ugrasan Suman
- Performance Measurements and Analysis of High Availability Clusters, by Dr. (Ms) A. Sreenivas and B. Narendra Yerram
- Netw-Truzy: Model to Estimate Quality of Performance and Robustness of Component-Based Software Engineering, by Saurav Kumar and Pradeep Kumar Bhatia
- Design of an Abstraction Layer for Communication with BDL/IMF Server, by Vikash P. and Selvakumar S
- Application Multi-Tenancy for Software as a Service, by Saravjith Bal, Ravi K. Mandap and Abhimanyu Sani
- Analysis of Confllicting User Requirements in Web Applications Using Graph Transformation, by Rashmi Phanikumar and Devi Jiveda
- A Dynamic Optimization Technique for Reconsidering OO Software for Reusability, by Dr. R. Selvakumar and P. Manojayakarasi
- Including Performance Benchmarks into Continuous Integration to Enable DevOps, by Jan Walker, Nils C. Ennike, Wilhelm Hasselbring

The letters and columns in this issue include the following:

- From the Chair (Snow City): Wil Tracz
- From the Editor: Michael Wing
- Top 10 Downloaded Articles
- Top 10 Most Cited Articles
- Passages: Alex Gooce
- Software Engineering Education (SEEd): Mark A. Adis, Peter B. Henderson
- Surfing the Netflix Software Engineering Notes: Ulrich Doerreker
- Risks to the Public: Peter G. Neumann and contributors
- Calendar of Events: Daniela Castelluccia

ICSE 2015

ICSE 2015 will be held May 16 - 24, 2015 in Florence, Italy.

ESEC/FSE 2015

ESEC/FSE 2015 will be held August 31 - September 4, 2015 in Bergamo, Italy.

SEN online in the Digital Library

The full text of the current issue and all back issues of Software Engineering Notes is now available online for SIGSOFT members in the ACM Digital Library.

Open Table of Contents (TOC) Resources

The ACM OpenTOC is a unique service that enables Special Interest Groups to open the content from recently held conferences enabling visitors to download the definitive version of the contents from the ACM Digital Library at no charge for a one year period starting from the conference start date. Downloads of these articles are captured in official ACM statistics, improving the accuracy of usage and impact measurements. Here are links to the conference table of contents available to SIGSOFT members:

SIGSOFT / ACM Webinars

We hope you can join us for the upcoming SIGSOFT and ACM PD sponsored webinars.

Follow the links below to register for these free 60 minute webinars and be sure to share this with friends and colleagues who may be interested in this topic. Check out our past events, all available on demand.

Each talk will be followed by a moderated live question and answer session.

Note: If you’d like to attend but can’t make it to the virtual event, you still need to register to receive a recording of the webinar when it becomes available. You can stream this and all ACM SIGSOFT and ACM Learning Webinars on your mobile device, including smartphones and tablets.

Agile and Evolutionary Software Development
June 02, 2015 at 12:00 PM Eastern Daylight Time

Registration and more information

Speaker: Václav Rajlich, Wayne State University

Abstract:
Successful software requires constant change that is triggered by volatility of requirements, technologies, and stakeholder knowledge. This constant change constitutes software evolution. There is also the new prominence of evolutionary software development that includes agile, iterative, open source, inner source, and other processes; the bulk of software development now happens in the stage of software evolution. This webcast discusses reasons for this shift and new issues that emerged. It also discusses the process of software change, which is the fundamental software evolution task. It briefly contrasts software evolution and software maintenance. It presents both the current state of the art and the perspectives of future advances.

Speaker Bio:
Václav Rajlich is Professor and former Chair of Computer Science at Wayne State University. His research centers on software development, software evolution, and comprehension. He has published over 100 refereed papers in journals and conferences. He also published a book that covers the current software engineering issues and software developer skills. He is the founder of the IEEE International Conference on Program Comprehension (ICPC) and was a Program Chair, General Chair, and Steering Committee Chair of IEEE International Conference on Software Maintenance and Evolution (ICSM). He is a member of Advisory Editorial Board of Journal of Software: Evolution and Process.

ACM SIGSOFT Town Hall Webinar
June 08, 2015 at 03:00 PM Eastern Daylight Time

Registration and more information

Speaker: Will Tracz, ACM SIGSOFT Chair

Abstract:
This webinar provides attendees with the who, what, and what next, where of ACM Special Interest Group on Software Engineering. Attendees will be informed of changes in membership benefits, volunteer opportunities, and recent changes in ACM publication policies regarding open source access to conference proceedings. The initial presentation is scheduled for no more than 30 minutes with the remaining half hour reserved for answering questions.

End-User Software Engineering: Beyond the Silos
June 18, 2015 at 01:00 PM Eastern Daylight Time

Registration and more information

Speaker: Margaret Burnett, Oregon State University
SIGSOFT Community Benefits:

• Networking and leadership opportunities at SIGSOFT events.
• Stimulating interaction among practitioners, researchers, and educators
• Representing software engineers to professional, legal, and political entities.
• Opportunities to serve as a volunteer in various capacities
• Providing assistance to graduate students presenting papers at SIGSOFT-sponsored conferences via the Conference Attendance Program for Students (CAPS) grants.
• Participation in honoring distinguished individuals through the:
  – ACM SIGSOFT Outstanding Research Award
  – Distinguished Service Award
  – Influential Educator Award
  – Impact Paper Awards
  – Outstanding Doctoral Dissertation Award
  – ACM SIGSOFT Distinguished Paper Awards
What we did (Highlights)

- Reduced/Increased membership rates by $5
- Plan for ESEC/FSE 2015 in Bergamo, Italy
- Plan for FSE 2016 in Seattle, Washington, USA
- Co/Sponsored / in-Cooperation > 15 conferences
